

Rutgers Center for Chinese Studies Presents
Inaugural Rutgers Daoist Studies Symposium:
“Daoism and Local Society in Modern China”

---Saturday, Nov 15, 2014:

9:45-10:15 AM: “The State of the Field in Daoist Studies for the Past Two Decades”

Keynote speech by Vincent Goossaert, EPHE-CNRS, Paris

10:30AM-12:30PM: Panel 1: Daoist Temple Fairs and Local Religious Life

Chair: Vincent Goossaert, Ecole Pratiques des Haute Etudes, Paris

Discussant: Shin-yi Chao, Rochester University

---Prof. Haiyan FU, Central China Normal University, Wuhan

“The Daoist White Cloud Monastery and Local Society in Republican Beijing”

---Prof. Zhen WU, Renmin University, Beijing

“Dragon and Tiger: Patterns of Buddho-Daoist Relations in Late Imperial North China”

---Dr. Ling FANG, CNRS, Paris

“Social Functions of the Eastern Peak Temple: The Case of the Old Dongyue Temple in Hangzhou”

2:00—5:00PM: Panel 2: Daoism and Local Elite

Panel Chair: Mori Yuria, Waseda University, Tokyo.

Discussants: Jiang Tao, Rutgers University

---Prof. Weidong ZHAO, Shandong Normal University, Jinan

“Patronage and Participation: Jie Yao’s Daoist Passions in Early Qing Shandong”

--- Prof. Li MEI, Central China Normal University, Wuhan

“Manchu Elite and Daoism in Mid-to-Late Qing Period: Gu Taiqing and Yi Hui”

---Prof. Xun LIU Rutgers University, New Brunswick

“Quanzhen Monastic Hosting of Literati Arts at Xuanmiao Temple in Late Qing Nanyang”

---Dr. Guoshuai QIN, EPHE, PARIS

“Quanzhen Taoism and Local Theatres in Republic Shandong and He’nan”

---Sunday, Nov 16, 2014:

9:00—11:00: Panel 3: Daoist Institutional Change and Local Religious Culture

Panel chair: Haiyan FU, Central China Normal University, Wuhan

Discussant: Jessey Choo, Rutgers University

---Mori Yuria, Waseda University.

“Daoists' Ordination Reform Seen in the Context of Buddhists' Vinaya Reformation in Jiangnan in Seventeenth Century”

---Vincent Goossaert, EPHE

“Zhengyi Daoist Ritual Revival in Contemporary Suzhou and Hangzhou”

---Daniel Burton-Rose, Princeton University,

“The Daoist Commitments of the Pings of Suzhou, 1673-1830”

This symposium is open to the Rutgers students and faculty, and the public.

Acknowledgements:

The inaugural Rutgers Daoist Studies symposium has been made possible with funding and logistical support from the following units of Rutgers University:

Rutgers Center for Chinese Studies
Confucius Institute of Rutgers University (CIRU)
Department of History
Department of Religion
Department of Asian Languages and Cultures
Office of the Executive Vice President

For more information, please contact:

Xun LIU, director, Rutgers Center for Chinese Studies
Mobile: 732-735-6084 office: 848-932-8524
Email: xmgnyz@gmail.com

Venue/Directions:

Room 301
Van Dyck Hall
3rd Floor
16 Seminary Place
New Brunswick, NJ 08901

Van Dyck Hall [Dept of History building] is about 7-minute walking distance from NJ Transit New Brunswick Station.